

The Advantages of Andersen® Windows & Doors

Beautiful Interiors

Andersen uses only the finest wood and checks its millwork for the most precise craftsmanship. But it's not just the exactness, it's also their aesthetics. It might be more accurate to compare Andersen® products with fine furniture than other windows.

Low-maintenance Exteriors

Available in White, Sandtone, Terratone® or Forest Green colors, their exclusive Perma-Shield® cladding protects the window's exterior beautifully and eliminates the need for painting or repainting. The cladding surrounds solid wood cores which make Andersen® windows far more reliable and durable.

Style Selection

Andersen offers two complete product lines. The Andersen® 400 Series gives you hundreds of thousands of sizes, shapes and styles, plus a full array of options and accessories — all with a classic blend of engineering and craftsmanship. The Andersen® 200 Series concentrates on the best-selling sizes and most popular options, delivering Andersen quality at an uncommon value. In addition, Andersen® architectural windows and doors provide dramatic shapes and dynamic sizes to complement their standard product lines.

Energy-efficient Glass

Andersen® High-Performance™ Low-E insulating glass is 35% more energy efficient than ordinary double pane windows in winter, 41% more in summer. Andersen's special High-Performance™ Low-E coating allows light to enter your home, but blocks the passage of heat. So, if it's 0° outside and 70° inside, the temperature of the innermost glass pane is a comfortable 57°. In the summer months, the glass helps keep your home cool by filtering the heat out of sunlight coming from high angles.

Tight, Reliable Seal

Andersen® windows and patio doors seal shut to the tightest tolerances in the industry, minimizing drafts, dust, and water infiltration. Their closure and thermal performance help make them some of the world's most energy-efficient windows.

The Warranty

Andersen stands by its products, and the people who use them. Their limited warranty is one of the most reliable product certifications available. 20 years on glass. 10 years on non-glass parts. The coverage is non-prorated and fully transferable, so it can add real value should you decide to sell your home.
